

Judy White, Director of Health Together

Judy set up the early adopter Health Trainer programme in Bradford and helped develop health trainers regionally and nationally. She has evaluated health trainer and community health champion programmes and published numerous reports and articles. Judy is now a senior lecturer at Leeds Beckett University having spent 10 years in the voluntary and community sector and over 20 years in health promotion in the NHS.